A study of contemporary theories of mind and philosophies of psychology.

PHIL*6150 Contemporary European Philosophy II Unspecified [0.50]
A study of the historical and contemporary origins of existentialism, phenomenology and post-modernism, concentrating on one or several of the classic texts.

PHIL*6140 Contemporary European Philosophy I Unspecified [0.50]
A study of the historical and contemporary origins of existentialism, phenomenology and post-modernism, concentrating on texts not covered in PHIL*6140 in the same year.

PHIL*6200 Problems of Contemporary Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
A study of a particular set of problems in contemporary philosophy.

PHIL*6210 Metaphysics Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of some selected major works or central problems in metaphysics.

PHIL*6220 Epistemology Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of some selected major works or central problems in epistemology.

PHIL*6230 Ethics Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of some selected contemporary works or problems in ethical theory.

PHIL*6320 Medieval Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
A close examination of particular problems and texts of the medieval period.

PHIL*6340 Modern Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
An examination of major texts, from Descartes to Mill.

PHIL*6400 Ethics of Data Science Unspecified [0.50]
A study of the philosophical implications (ethical, legal, social, political, epistemological, etc.) of recent developments in data science, artificial intelligence, and machine learning.

PHIL*6410 Philosophy of Computation Fall Only [0.50]
Computation has far-reaching implications for ethics, social and political philosophy, epistemology, metaphysics, philosophy of technology, the philosophy of mathematics, the philosophy of science, and logic. This course introduces students to different issues in the philosophy of computation-how philosophers have thought about computation from a variety of different perspectives.

PHIL*6530 Kant Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of the works of Immanuel Kant.

PHIL*6600 Social and Political Philosophy I Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of selected works or central problems in the fields of social or political philosophy.

PHIL*6610 Social and Political Philosophy II Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of selected works or central problems in the field of social and political philosophy not covered in PHIL*6600.

PHIL*6620 Feminist Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of selected works or central problems in feminist philosophy.

PHIL*6700 Ancient Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
An examination of a text or a topic in ancient philosophy.

PHIL*6730 Philosophy of Science Unspecified [0.50]
An examination of selected works or central problems in philosophy of science.

PHIL*6740 Philosophy of Biology Unspecified [0.50]
A general introduction to the history and philosophy of biology.

PHIL*6760 Science and Ethics Unspecified [0.50]
A consideration of the problems which arise in the conjunction of science and ethics.

PHIL*6900 Reading Course Unspecified [0.50]
Topics in this course will vary from offering to offering.

PHIL*6930 Selected Topics I Unspecified [0.50]
Topics in this course will vary from offering to offering.

PHIL*6940 Selected Topics II Unspecified [0.50]
Topics in this course will vary from offering to offering.
PHIL*6950 MA Seminar Unspecified [0.50]
A seminar course in which students work on developing a range of academic skills for doing professional philosophy. This course is pass/fail and is mandatory for all incoming MA students. Please refer to the Philosophy Department website for a comprehensive description of this course.

Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHIL*6960 PhD Seminar Fall and Winter [0.50]
A seminar course in which students work on developing a range of academic skills for doing professional philosophy. This course is pass/fail and is mandatory for all first year PhD students. Please refer to the Philosophy Department website for a comprehensive description of this course.

Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHIL*6990 Major Research Project Unspecified [1.00]
A major research project undertaken by students doing an MA by course work, under the supervision of a faculty member.

Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph