PHILO*6060 Logic Unspecified [0.50]
A course designed to bring the individual student to the level of competence in logical techniques and theory required for graduate studies.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6120 Philosophy of Mind Unspecified [0.50]
A study of contemporary theories of mind and philosophies of psychology.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6140 Contemporary European Philosophy I Unspecified [0.50]
A study of the historical and contemporary origins of existentialism, phenomenology and post-modernism, concentrating on one or several of the classic texts.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6150 Contemporary European Philosophy II Unspecified [0.50]
A study of the historical and contemporary origins of existentialism, phenomenology and post-modernism, concentrating on texts not covered in PHILO*6140 in the same year.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6200 Problems of Contemporary Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
A study of a particular set of problems in contemporary philosophy.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6210 Metaphysics Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of some selected major works or central problems in metaphysics.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6220 Epistemology Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of some selected major works or central problems in epistemology.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6230 Ethics Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of some selected contemporary works or problems in ethical theory.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6320 Medieval Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
A close examination of particular problems and texts of the medieval period
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6340 Modern Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
An examination of major texts, from Descartes to Mill.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6400 Ethics of Data Science Unspecified [0.50]
A study of the philosophical implications (ethical, legal, social, political, epistemological, etc.) of recent developments in data science, artificial intelligence, and machine learning.

PHILO*6530 Kant Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of the works of Immanuel Kant.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6600 Social and Political Philosophy I Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of selected works or central problems in the fields of social or political philosophy.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6610 Social and Political Philosophy II Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of selected works or central problems in the field of social and political philosophy not covered in PHILO*6600.
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6620 Feminist Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of selected works or central problems in feminist philosophy.
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6700 Ancient Philosophy Unspecified [0.50]
A critical examination of some selected works or central problems in the fields
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6730 Philosophy of Science Unspecified [0.50]
An examination of selected works or central problems in philosophy of science.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6740 Philosophy of Biology Unspecified [0.50]
A general introduction to the history and philosophy of biology.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6760 Science and Ethics Unspecified [0.50]
A consideration of the problems which arise in the conjunction of science and ethics.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6930 Selected Topics I Unspecified [0.50]
Topics in this course will vary from offering to offering.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6940 Selected Topics II Unspecified [0.50]
Topics in this course will vary from offering to offering.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHILO*6950 MA Seminar Unspecified [0.50]
A seminar course in which students work on developing a range of academic skills for doing professional philosophy. This course is pass/ fail and is mandatory for all incoming MA students. Please refer to the Philosophy Department website for a comprehensive description of this course.
Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph
PHIL*6960  PhD Seminar  Fall and Winter  [0.50]
A seminar course in which students work on developing a range of academic skills for doing professional philosophy. This course is pass/fail and is mandatory for all first year PhD students. Please refer to the Philosophy Department website for a comprehensive description of this course.

Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph

PHIL*6990  Major Research Project  Unspecified  [1.00]
A major research project undertaken by students doing an MA by course work, under the supervision of a faculty member.

Department(s): Department of Philosophy
Location(s): Guelph