EURO*2200 Gender and Modernism in Europe Winter Only (LEC: 3) [0.50]

This course explores major trends in European culture in the period 1848-1920. Topics studied include major social changes and their significance for culture (e.g. political participation by women and other previously excluded groups, bourgeois liberalism, revolts in the mid-19th century, World War I), thinkers who have shaped the 20th century, avant-garde movements and innovation in the arts and letters (e.g. impressionism, futurism, expressionism, surrealism). Particular attention will be paid to the role of women and changing concepts of gender during this period.

Prerequisite(s): 2.00 credits

Department(s): School of Languages and Literatures

Location(s): Guelph

EURO*3100 Europe and the World Winter Only (LEC: 3) [0.50]

The history of modern Europe is inextricably linked to the history of the non-European world. In this course, students will examine how encounters with non-European peoples and cultures have shaped European culture and society, between the 16th century and the present day. Through art, literature, and film, students will discover how Europeans have represented and problematized the transnational experiences of slavery, empire, and migration, as well as how non-Europeans have responded to Europe's "civilizing mission."

Prerequisite(s): 7.50 credits
