

BACHELOR OF CREATIVE ARTS, HEALTH AND WELLNESS (B.C.A.)

The University of Guelph offers a Bachelor of Creative Arts, Health and Wellness as an Honours degree requiring the completion of 20.00 credits. This four-year Honours program will prepare a generation of highly-skilled creative arts graduates equipped to tackle the complex fields of health and well-being as they intersect with artistic practices, self-expression, and creative autonomy. In the interest of also training students in inclusive, anti-colonial, and anti-racist practices, this program emphasizes anti-oppressive practices within the creative arts, health and wellness sector. This degree introduces students to applications of the creative arts to health and wellness as multi-modal practices. All students major in one artistic discipline (Music, Studio Art, or Theatre Studies) and complete training in the field of psychology. Students then bring these skills to core courses, where they explore foundational concepts in creative arts, health and wellness in a multimodal and anti-oppressive setting.

To graduate from the program, a student must:

1. Earn 20.00 credits. These must include 4.50 credits in core courses, 2.50 credits in required Psychology courses, and 1.50 credits in Oppression and Resistance courses.
2. Fulfill the course and credit requirements of one artistic major (music, studio art, or theatre studies), with a cumulative average of 60% in all course attempts.
3. Students may not take more than one artistic major. The requirements for each artistic major are set out separately below .

Program Counselling: In-course students in the Bachelor of Creative Arts, Health and Wellness will be supported by the Bachelor of Arts & Science Program Counselling office who are well equipped to provide guidance and discuss resources available to students. For information about how to contact a program counsellor, and for more information about program counselling, see Section VII – Academic Counselling of the current Undergraduate Calendar.

Departmental Advisors: Upon entering the program, all students will be linked to a faculty advisor who will mentor them through their studies. The faculty advisor is familiar with the unique pressures of each artistic major, and can also provide meaningful advice about career training and graduate programs. Students are strongly encouraged to attend all meetings called by their advisor, and to set up individual meetings with them when they have questions or concerns about their performance or progress in the program.
