

GOVERNMENT, ECONOMICS AND MANAGEMENT (GEM)

Department of Economics and Finance, Gordon S. Lang School of Business and Economics

The Government, Economics and Management major is designed to lead to an understanding of public sector administration and management from the "inside" - as an integrated enterprise - as well as from the outside - as a series of policy decisions and outcomes. Characterized by a multi-disciplinary approach employing political, economic and business-oriented analysis, students will confront questions of why politicians and public servants behave the way they do, and how their policy choices and processes can be optimized. Management of public entities features a unique set of challenges that arise from and interact with basic political issues like democracy, accountability, equity, fairness, and justice. At the same time, it necessarily faces concerns common to all organizations, such as efficiency, human and capital resource management, morale, planning, and adaptation to change.

The major will appeal to students interested in the public service, public sector businesses or business-government relations.

A principal aim of the Co-op program in Government, Economics and Management is to facilitate the transition of students from academic studies to a professional career by enhancing the integration of theory and practice.

Students enrolled in the GEM major can choose to complete three of the five required courses for the Certificate in Leadership as part of their requirements for the major if they choose the appropriate restricted electives. If you would like to graduate both with a BComm degree and the Certificate in Leadership you should use two of your free electives to enroll in HROB*2010 Foundations of Leadership in either semester 3 or 6 and HROB*4010 Leadership Certificate Capstone in semester 8. In addition to the five degree-credit courses selected from the above list, 120 hours of leadership practice are required to obtain the undergraduate Certificate in Leadership. See <http://www.leadershipcertificate.com/> for information regarding this Certificate and its course requirements.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the Bachelor of Commerce program, graduates will be able to:

- Demonstrate the ability to think critically by identifying, evaluating and integrating relevant information from a variety of sources to solve complex business problems
- Demonstrate an ability to work effectively in teams, through the application of appropriate knowledge and skills such as responsible decision-making and personal accountability
- Identify and professionally respond to team issues and develop a new approach to enhance team performance
- Discuss and apply principles of corporate social responsibility to business issues and operations.
- Communicate effectively in a business context through written documents to a variety of audiences
- Communicate effectively in a business context through oral communication to a variety of audiences

- Demonstrate competency and understanding of core business knowledge and concepts.
- Demonstrate proficiency in the ability to integrate knowledge and understanding within specific majors through analysis and recommendation of solutions to 'major specific' business problems and business decision-making.

Government, Economics and Management major graduates will also be able to:

- Understand political culture and institutions and how they relate to private and public sector entities.
- Understand the policy making process and how government is organized to deliver programs and services to Canadians.
- Learn basic problem-solving techniques using tools acquired in microeconomics. This includes, for example, techniques to calculate tax rates, determine dead weight losses of government policies, fiscal equalization payments under Canada's federal system.
- Apply the principles learned in this course to critically examine economic policies like Ontario Harmonized Sales Tax, why it was implemented; the rationale for HST refunds, etc.
